

BOARD ELECTIONS COMING IN MARCH!

Normally we wait until January to post information about our March meetings. However, this isn't a notice of meeting as much as it is an opportunity to start thinking if you would like to become a board member or participate in a committee. The Board will be sending out nomination applications some time in January. The applications will be due by early February. This is when we need to mail the notices along with the election ballots to the homeowners for the March meeting.

Since all of this goes by very quickly, we thought it would be a great idea to give you more time to think about becoming an enthusiastic member of your association. In 2007, we will have two board positions available for election. If you aren't interested in running for a board position, will you please consider one of our committees. We currently have nine committees with three committees still needing volunteers. We hope that you will consider playing a role in the future of Century Farms.

We look forward to year 2007 as being a year of dynamic involvement from our homeowners. A good association usually has 10% of the homeowners in addition to the board, involved in actively planning and organizing. A great association has more. But imagine, 10% of our 253 homes that would equal 25 homeowners contributing plus the five board members. We have 15 members now.

Just imagine what another 10 people could help us accomplish! How about 15 more people??

Optimistically yours,
Fran Bixler, President
